Bill Donovan, who was "farmed" to the Hartford club of the Eastern League last spring and who has been pitching great ball up there ever since, was put into the box by Manager Hanlon yesterday, with the result that the big hitters of the St. Louis club were made to look like easy marks until the last inning. Donovan had great speed and curves, but he also had a wholesome respect for Capt. McGraw, to whom he handed four bases on balls and also hit him with a pitched ball. It was not until the last finning that the visitors began to solve Donovan. Then they made things decidedly interesting. With the score? To 3 against them and but seven hits secured off the ex-Hartlord man, McGraw began the minth with a hit and was forced by Robinson. The fat catcher promptly startled the 1,000 rooters by stealing second, Farrell, in his astonishment, making no attempt to throw him out. Doniin, who was sent to bat instead of Powell, flied to Sheckard, and incidentally revised Gaffney for calling a couple of strikes on him. McGraw drew his fourth base on balls and Burkett filled the bases with a short single to left. Heidrick lined another safe one along the left field foul line, on which both Robinson and McGraw scored. Things looked critical when Donovan also hammered what looked like a safe hit to left, but as the ball struck Burkett on the leg the latter was out and the game was ended. Powell pitched good ball in spots, but two errors by Wallace were fatal. Capt. Kelley's batting cut a leading figure in the Brooklyns victory. He sent three runs across the plate and scored himself. DeMontreville's fielding was also a feature. The Brooklyns scored a run in the first inning on Sheckard's base on balls and steal after two were out, followed by Kelley's single. They counted again in the second, when Cross got two bases on Wallace's fumble and wild throw and crossed the plate on Farrell's hit to left. The visitors made their first run in the third on barrell's stole. bases on Wallace's fumble and wild throw and crossed the plate on Farrell's hit to left. The visitors made their first run in the third on Powell's single, McGraw's base on balls and Heldrick's hit to left. In the last half Jones ran around on a base on balls, a steal and Kelley's second safe hit. In the fourth Wallace's single, McGann's scratch two-bagger and an out yielded St. Louis's second run, but the Brooklyns quickly made two more on Wallace's representations of the second run out and Jones's two-bagger. The visitors made their third run in the eighth on two singles, a force, a steal and Farrell's poor throw. In the last half Sheckard's single, Kelley's three-last half Sheckard's single, Kelley's three-bagger and Cross's base hit netted two more runs and gave to the Champions what proved to be a safe lead. NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. Lively Session of the L. A. W. Executive Committee Expected To-morrew.

A sequel to the trouble between the New York State Division of the L. A. W. and the national authorities is promised for to-morrow when a specially called meeting of the Executive Committee of this State is to be held. Then the minority report of John B. Uhle of Revision Committee, will be considered. At the last session of the committee appointed to revise the L. A. W. constitution, two complete drafts of a new constitution were considered, one originating with Abbott Bassett, the pres-ent secretary, and the other with Mr. Uhle. The draft of the New York member was not accepted and when the revised constitution is submitted to the national organization, he will make a minority report. The new idea of the majority is not to do away with the State divisions, but to have the moneys apportioned among local consulates in the State instead of

A well-attended meeting of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island was held last night. The report of George Shannon, chairman of the Race Committee, received the cleases attention. The report showed that the race had been a substantial success and that in spite of the large number of prizes given away the association had cleared $175 on the race on Labor Day. The team road race of the association will be held on Oct 20. The committee also decided that two additional riders were entitled to prizes. Al Spice of the Kings County Wheelmen and Henry Mowak of the Defender Wheelmen. Chairman Shannon said that in future phonographs would be used at the finish, so that not one of the riders would be missed. The Central Wheelmen of the Y. M. C. A. resigned from the association.

MR. BENNETT'S NEW YACHT.

One of the Largest and Most Powerful Steamer Ever Built on the Clyde.

James Gordon Bennett's new steam yacht, Lysistrata, which was launched from Denny's most epoch-making steam yacht. "This vessel," says the Yachtsman, "has been built by the Messrs. Denny from plans prepared by Mr. G. of the senior members of the New York Yacht Club. The boat is the largest and most power-Lysistrata-for so the big vessel was named by Miss Amy Denny—is 285 feet long on the load water line, and 314 feet over all, 40 feet in breadth and 25 feet in depth, and 2,082 tons T. M. She has a plumb stem, a long and singularly graceful counter, a full poop aft, a long shade deck amidships, and a short turtle back forward, one huge funnel, and a very rudimentary sort of mast with nothing on it but a signalling yard. The boat is built of the finest steel, is a twin-screw vessel, and a speed of eighteen knots has been contracted for with her: triple expansion machinery of about 6,500 indicated horse power is being fitted and the engines are being arranged on the four-crank principle. Like her twin sister, Margarita, Lysistrata has been built with the buitts of her plates everlapping, which is a novelly introduced to yacht building by Mr. Watson.

"With regard to saloon and cabin accommodation, Lysistrata has suite after suite of handsome staterooms (many of them supplemented with dressing rooms and bathrooms), while dining room, library and owner's business room leave nothing to desire. The dining room, twenty-five feet long by twenty feet broad, and lofty and well lighted and airy, is being done in the Grecian fashion. The lighting and ventilating of the yacht are on the most modera and costly principles."

FOOTBALL.

College Teams Begin Hard Practice-An Ac eldent to Cornell's Captain.

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 17 .- Forty-two prowned athletes presented themselves to Capt. Daly this afternoon. They were can-didates for the Harvard 'Varsity football eleven. Head Coach Dibblee and Trainer Jack McMasters were on hand and were pleased with the number and sturdy appearance of the men. For twenty-five minutes they practised hard at starts, falling on the ball and catching punts and passing. They finished with a vigorous sprint around the gridiron to the locker building. Douglas Cochrane, who played left end on the 1868 Varsity, assisted Dibblee and Daly in coaching. A large erowd of football enthusiasts wandered about candidates with intense interest.

Of last year's eleven only six were present

They were Hallowell and Campbell, Daly, quarter back; Gierasch and Sawin, lefe half backs, and Elis, full back. Trainer McMasseason. Strained tendons in his leg make a rest essential. Burnett, centre last year, is also not expected to play, on account of complications with the college office. Boal, left guard on the 1898 eleven, will return to the law school, and will undoubtedly be persuaded to come out. Farley, an active member of the "scrub" elevens two years ago, is also expected to put in an appearance. Harvard's greatest need is suitable men for the line between ends. For centre there are several eandidates, including C. Sargent, 1902, Green, 1902, and Surden, 1903. There are several promising men for guard and tackie, but not one quite up to the mark. For the back field there is a wealth of material.

Regular morning practice will begin tomorrow at 10:30 o'clock. It will consist of dumbbell exercises and a long run. Afternoon practics will start at 3:30 o'clock. Graduate Manager-elect Spalding announced Harvard's football schedule for the season tonight as follows:

Sept. 29. Wesleyan at Cambridge: Oct 5, Williams season. Strained tendons in his leg make a rest sight as follows:

Sept. 28. Wesleyan at Cambridge: Oct. 5. Williams at Cambridge; 6. Bowdoin at Cambridge; 10. Amherst at Cambridge; 15. Columbia at Cambridge: 17. Batea at Cambridge; 20. West Point at West Point, 27. Carlisle Indians at Cambridge; Nov. 3. University of Pennylvania at Cambridge; 16. Brown at Cambridge; 24. Yale at New Haven.

ITRACA. Sept. 17.—The Cornell football team practiced for the first time this year on Percy Field this afternoon. Capt. Starbuck and about twenty-five of the candidates put in an appearance. Pierson, centre: Warner, left guard; Morrison, right half back, and Thomas, quarter back, were the only men of last year's team out. More are expected during the week. The practice consisted of falling on the ball and starting. Toward the end Capt. Starbuck threw his shoulder out of joint and the injury is such that he will not be able to get in the game for two weeks, at least. This fact makes Cornell's football season open rather inauspicleusly.

for two weeks, at least. This fact makes cornell's football season open rather inauspiciously.

Princeton, Sept. 17.—Thirty candidates for the Princeton eleven appeared on Osborn Field in their molegkins this afternoon. They were drilled a half hour in punting and falling on the ball, and finished up by trotting lelsurely around the running track twice. It was the first practice of the season and for this reason was doubly interesting to the large crowd of students who gathered on the side lines to sum up the prospects of the team. Of the men who lined up against Yale last year, Capt. Pell, left tackle. Mills, guard; Roper, end; McCord, and McClave, half backs, and Mattis, full back were in uniform and when the second rate players were aided, it made the start very encouraging, so far as the number of candidates is concerned.

"Biffy Lea, head coach of last year's team, who has signed with the University of Michigan this fall, had charge of the men this afternoon and he will remain here two weeks before entering upon his duties in the West. Arthur Poe also was at the practice and he has agreed to coach the ends for ten days. Nat Poe, quarterback on the 1887 eleven, has been engaged to coach during the entire season but Capt. Pell has announced that there will be no regular head coach. Nat Poe will be joined about Oct. I by Balliett, the old centre, and by Bannard, half back on the 1885 team. This staff is regarded here as one of the strongest that ever had charge of the Orange and Black. Owing to the enturance examination only a few of the new men were on the field, but those who did appear made a favorable impression. Butklewiez, from Andover, and Dewitt, from Lawrenceville, are promising-looking linemen, while Hunter, form St. Paul's School at Concord, has all the requisites of a fast half back. The remainder of the entering players will report on Wednesday when it is estimated that the squad will number about sixty. Besides the seasoned men the following were the most prominent candidates who practised this

New Haven, Sept. 17.—The football season of 1900 was opened at Vale this afternoon. It New Haven, Sept. 17.—The football season of 1900 was opened at Yale this afternoon. It was the plan of the managers to begin work this morning, but the players were nearly all late in arriving. By noon there were early all late in arriving. By noon there were only four players in town. By 4 o'cleck a dozen or more had been mustered and with this squad and Mike Murphy, the veteran trainer, Capt. Brown went out to the gridfron. The players got forty minutes' practice in starting and in falling on the ball. Then they were all troiled around the cinder track for two miles until they were in a glow. This ended the work of the day, all through the afternoon new arrivals kept coming in and to-night there are twenty-six players registered at the Hitchinson, where the squad will be quartered until college opens.

A training table was started at noon to-day and everything is now in good running order. At 10 o'clock to-morrow morning and again at 2 o'clock in the afternoon Capt Brown will take the squad out to the field for light preliminary work. As yet there are no coaches here to assist Brown. Walter Camp was in town this morning, but left at noon for his vacation. He will not return for a fortnight. The players who took part in to-day's practice were: C. Dupee, G. Chadwick and Hyde, half backs: John DeSaulles, quarter back; Goss, Payne and Capt Brown, guards; Chittenden, tacke, and Gould, end. Of these Chittenden, tacke, and Gould, end. Of these Chittenden, a boy from Washington, D. C., is the only new player. Brown and Dupee, who had the typhold fever last season, looks especially strong and well. Every one had a hearty grip for Mike Murphy and Mike himself seemed glad to get back to the old town where he began his career as a trainer.

A programme of unusual proportions attracted a growd above the average to Gravesend yesterday afternoon. Male visitors were wise enough to discard their straw hats and turn out in autumn costume, but some of the women took chances in their porous summer outfits. With them it seemed to be a orisis of pneumonia or favorites, and after four hysterical, but unprofitable demonstrations, they "rooted" two first choices over the plate, and went home happy without worrying about Wraps.

breeze, for three-year-olds, at one mile and a sixteenth. Prestidigitator, Post Haste, Withers and Mayor Oilroy were withdrawn, leaving Hesper a slight favorite over Peaceful, with Oneck Queen next in demand. Hesper made most of the running to the stetch, where Greenock moved up from a rear position and won out in a drive by half a length. Hesper disputed every inch with the winner and took the place by four lengths from Peaceful, who beat Oneck Queen a head.

Criterion carried so much money in the opening dash for two-year-olds that his price dropped from 4 to 5 to 3 to 5. Elizabeth M. and Inshot outran the good thing all the way, but were forced to lower their colors in the drive home, to Servilla. The Lorillard filly with a fast win at Sheepshead Bay to her credit, started at the false odds of 40 to 1 and simply galloped over her field in the stretch, winning by a neck from Elizabeth M., who beat In Shot galloped over her field in the stretch, winning by a neck from Elizabeth M., who beat In Shot five lengths. Mike Clancy's latest acquisition lasted long enough to beat the favorite a head for show money.

Several owners shied at the handicap for all ages, but enough stood pat to furnish a field of eleven. Brigadier looked to be the class of the race and next to him the choices were Intrusive and Genfalon. Gold Or, at 30 to 1, sprinted off in front for half the distance when he suddenly dropped out of sight, leaving Favonius in the lead., The Morris horse was challenged resolutely in the stretch by King Barleycorn and Brigadier, but he held his own easily and won by half a length from King Barleycorn, who beat the favorite a head.

The talent fell to Henry Clay Rye in the maiden two-year-old race, but the best he could do was third. Quite Right, at 3 to 1, won easily by four lengths from the second choice. Animosity. For the fourth time in succession plungers went wrong in the Seabreeze Stakes, but the tide turned in their favor when Autumn galloped away with the fifth race. Hiddreth's gelding was played from 4 to 1 to 16 to 5 in a field of nine runners, and furnished the surprise of the day. The conditions called for a race of one mile and 70 yards, with the line-up directly in front of the line-up directly in front of the centre of the grand stand. Whistling Con kicked Autumn square on the Jaw, dislodging a lot of his teeth, and the favorite was led back to the stewards. They decided that the injury was not sufficient to justify his withdrawal and Shaw remounted him. They got off in good order, with Compensation showing the way. After a quarter Autumn went through like a wid horse and turned for home with a clear lead of ten lengths. Toddy had been loafing up to this stage, but he settled down to race in the stretch and ran Autumn to three lengths, with Compensation a length three lengths, with continuous in the away.

The talent doubled up on Himtime in the closing event, and McCafferty's horse landed the money cleverly by a length. He was entered to be sold for $1,000, but it cost McCafferty $2,005 to retain him, the bidding being done by S. C. Hildreth. Summary:

The propos d special sweepstakes between Tommy Atk ns and Ballyhoo Bey may be considered off for the present owing to the condition of Mr. Whitney's noted Futurity and Flatbush winer. Dr. Sheppard has been looking Ballyhoo Bey over carefully for some days and the following is a copy of his certificate:

I hereby certify that I have this day examined, by the request of Hon. W.C. Whitney, the two-year-old thoroughbred coil Ballyhoo Bey, and find that the wound he received when running in the Flatbush States, on the coronet of the inside quarter of the off fore foot, though not liable to cause permanent disablement, will take at least two weeks longer to heal. During this time the coil should receive absolute rest.

Amateur Reinsmen in the Sulky at Readville.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The Intercity Matinée Meeting opened to day at the Readville trotting park under the auspices of the Gentlemen's Driving Club of this city. The track was soft and the time made was slow because of the heavy rain which fell resterday. Two of the races were captured by members of the Cheveland Gentlemen's Driving Club. H. K. Deverous won the 2.30 trot with his bay gelding Dr. Buckner. Ananias had an easy time with Mazette, taking the event in straight heats. Mr. Emery handled him well. Mr. Farmer, with Dominant, was the only winner from the home club. The 2:15 trot was carried over, with Miss Duke, Franker and Rightwood each having won a heat. Franker is the farorite. Summaries:

ATHLETIC MANAGERS MEET.

Metropolitan Association of A. A. U. Elects

There was more life displayed at the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. held at the Astor House last night than at any similar gathering held in many years. Parlor 74 was filled with delegates who criticised ermer administrations and proposed reforms for the future with a vim that betokens awakening interest in the sport. James E. Sullivan of the Knickerbocker A. C. was in the chair. The Treasurer's report showed that the season was begun with a balance of and $3,279.19 disbursed, leaving a balance of $431.82. The amount of $157.50 was received as dues last night, leaving the association with he neat balance of $389.82 to begin the fiscal year ined at the annual meeting last year, the association had made a determined effort to boom amateur sport, but that the work of the committees had not been supported by the clubs and their following in such a hearty manner as was expected. As a result, five championship meetings were held, and each one at a loss, as indicated by the following summaries of the different championship committees' re-

Boxing and Wrestling—Expenditures, $728.34; receipts, $641.12 Loss, $87.22.

The Registration Committee reported action on about seventy protests during the year, and that twenty-seven men had been reinstated during the year, including the following restored to standing since the last meeting of the Hymes. New West Side A. C. basketball players.

After the reports of committees W. M. Brittain, President of the New West Side A. C. threw a bombshell into the camp by asking for information regarding free tickets issued for the Track and Field championship meeting held at Columbia Field on Sept s. He declared that the members of the Championship Committee voted themselves fifty tickets each and that a member of his club had used his slare to influence the election for President of the New West Side A. C. against Brittain, and that the cub at a meeting had desired him to ask for information as to whether the tickets were voted to the committeeman as a representative of the club or for his personal friezds. T. F. O'Brien, the chairman of the committee, explained that the tickets were awarded for personal distribution, and after some further recriminations it was decided on motion that future distributions of free tickets shall be made to clubs and not to individuals.

THE TRIAL OF JIM HOWARD.

Two Witnesses Testify That He Told Them He Killed Geebel. FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 17 .- The trial of Jim Howard to-day brought out sensational testimony given by John L. Jones, a member of Capt. Noaks's company of Knox county, and James W. Stubblefield, formerly a deputy sheriff under Sheriff White of Clay county. Jones testified to the following conversation with Howard on the morning after the shooting on the north side of the State House grounds. "I said: 'I understand Goebel isn't hurt,' He replied, 'He is; he was shot by a damned dead shot.' I met him again after the death of Goebel end he said to me: 'Didn't I tell you he was shot by a dead shot?"

"Did he say anything further at the time?"
"Yes, he said that whenever he shot, he shot to kill."

to kill.

On cross-examination Jones said that Attorney Campbell had asked him to go to the mountains to get facts in the case and that in case of conviction he would receive compensation for it. Jones admitted to having been twice convicted for crime.

Ex-Deputy Sheriff Stubblefield testified that Howard told him he killed Goebel. Stubblefield and Howard were intimate friends and the conversation occurred at Howard's house. When asked as to Howard's movements about Jan. 25, Stubblefield said:

versation occurred to howard's movements about Jan. 25, Stubblefield said:

"Jim left Manchester the Sunday before the shooting. Prior to that time I talked to him about getting up a company of soldiere to go to Frankfort to help Taylor to fight. He replied: 'You cannot fight. You cannot stand up. I have been in communication with Taylor. Early in February he came to my house and in a conversation said: 'Whenever I look over the sights of my gun I always get meat or money, and in this case have both. We have had hell at Frankfort and have cleaned up the platter.' A day or two later we had another talk. I referred to the previous conversation, asking if he meant by it that he had killed Goebel. He said: 'Stub, by God. I meant what I said to you. My friends here will stand by me and 200 men cannot get me out of this country unless I want to go.'"

The cross examination related to conversations with lawyers for the prosecution.

Senator Blackburn has been here taking a personal hand in the framing of an election law. In conversation with a Democratic member of the House, who has been opposing the plan of granting judicial powers to the county boards, Mr. Blackburn said:

"I am still of the opinion that the Goebel law should be amended only so as to remedy the defects shown in the election of last year. The Goebel law was passed for a purpose, but it failed. It is now incumbent upon the Democrate to amend the law so the failure of last year will not be repeated."

Representative Holland. Democratic member of the committee, said this morning that unless the Republicans and conservative Democrats would accept the House measure there would be no change of the Goebel law. "We will give them minority representation," said Mr. Holland, "but we will insist that the boards are given judicial power. Nothing less than this will be accepted by the Democrate."
